Submissions are Public Documents

Generally the Sentencing Advisory Council treats submissions as public documents. This means that the Council may refer to or quote directly from a submission and name the source of the submission in relevant publications. Public submissions will also be published on the Council's website.

However, you can instead choose for your submission to be treated anonymously or confidentially. Please tick ONE of the options below to let us know how you want the Sentencing Advisory Council to deal with your submission, then sign and date the form and return it to us by post, fax or email.

The Council reserves the right not to publish or use submissions that it considers may be defamatory or offensive.

I want my submission to be treated as a public submission. I understand that this means that my submission will be treated as a public document, it may be quoted in a publication, that my name or organisation may be disclosed as the author of the submission and that my submission may be published on the Council's website.

I want my submission to be treated as an anonymous submission. I understand that this means that my submission may be quoted, copies of it may be provided to people who request to see it, but my name or organisation will not be disclosed as the author of the submission at any time.

I want my submission to be treated as a confidential submission. I understand that this means that my submission will not be quoted or referred to in any publication, and my name or organisation will not be publicly disclosed. My submission will only be used to generally inform the Sentencing Advisory Council in their decision making process.
